

SZMUKLER-MONCLER Serge graduated as a DDS in 1982 and gained his PhD in Material Science in 1989. From 1992-1997 he was project leader at a major implant manufacturer in Switzerland in charge of implant surfaces and immediate loading. Since 1998, he runs a consulting activity specialized in Biomaterials and Implantology in Basel, Switzerland.

He is professor a.c at the University of Cagliari, Italy and Scientific Director of IED in Paris, an ex-associate-Professor at the Dpt of Stomatology and Maxillofacial Surgery, University of Paris-6. He lectured at the Universities of Liège, B; Strasbourg, F and La Sapienza Roma, I.

He is member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Biomedical Material Research B and reviews for Biomaterials and the Journal of Dental Research, eCell & Materials. He authored many scientific and clinical papers as well as authoritative textbooks.

His work is related to Implants surface, Immediate Loading, Ultra-sonic bone surgery, Innovative advanced surgical techniques and Clinical research. He is a worldwide appreciated lecturer.